Greets You!

Foreword

This 1950 Citadel is a symbol of the gratitude we feel towards our parents, teachers and principal.

Through their guidance we have learned the spirit of co-operation, good will and citizenship. We have learned to work together and to play together to achieve the best in whatsoever is undertaken.

As we now go forth in search of our profession we shall always be comforted by our school memories.

—Editor and Associate, Maryann Grosjean and Ann Kell

Dedication

We wish to dedicate this 1950 Citadel to our parents, teachers and principal who have made our school days to remember and cherish for the rest of our lives.

SUPERINTENDENT

Mr. Lawrence Foote, who is serving his first year as Superintendent of the Allen County Schools, is a native of Huntertown. He graduated from Huntertown High School in 1931, received his A. B. Degree from Canterbury College, Danville, Indiana, and later his Masters Degree from Indiana University. Before becoming Superintendent he taught at Huntertown for seven years. He was principal at Metz, Indiana, for two years; Rockfield, Indiana, one year; Harlan, Indiana, four years.

PRINCIPAL

Mr. Edwin Prible has capably and successfully completed his fourth years as principal. During these years many improvements have been made for which he is largely responsible. Although his problems have been many, through his patience, understanding, and encouragement he has indeed proved a friend to the students.

MR. ALMON SMITH
Perry Township

TRUSTEES

David Hyndman and Almon Smith, our competent trustees, have served the Eel River-Perry Townships for eight successful years. Always with our best interests at heart they have served us well and we appreciate their efforts.

History of Class '50

Looking back in the year 1938, seventeen students in the class of '50 started their first year studying their ABC's and learning to write their numbers. Those well mannered little stars included Ann Arnold, Lowell Cummins, Betty Fox, Charles Freeman, William Fritz, Wilma Genth, Maryann Grosjean, Owen Gross, Russell Green, Phil Johnson, Ann Kell, Charlene McKinley, Vaughn Marschand, Charles Overly, Kathie Shew, Donald Shultz, and Fred Streets. We left our first grade with our report cards that said "promoted" which put a sparkle in our eyes.

Starting the second grade Reginald McMahan with his red hair brightened the year with Betty Thomas, Rose Ann Peters, Lois Siples, and Norma Croxton gliding into the third and fourth grades. No stars were added to the fifth and sixth grades.

In order to finish our elementary years Jack Flaig, Mary Roth, Gladys Guiff, Lee Gordon, Jim Clark, and Richard Bower joined us in marching to North Side High School to receive our blue covered diplomas.

We began our course of High School work with Jack Bowser, Virginia Chapman, Dorothy Freeman, Burl Gause, Allen Gilbm, Ted Hawk, Ned Keener, Raymond Konger, Eddie Tom, and Robert Wise. Our first freshman class party was a pot-luck supper with Mrs. Hostettler and Mr. Fee acting as chaperones. Entering our sophomore year we elected Bert Freeman, Tom Henry, and Virginia Chapman for class officers. Tom Henry was the only star to enter our sophomore class. We enjoyed the History Club parties and our class sponsors were Mrs. Palicki and Mr. Appleman.

Bill Till and Mary Patterson were the two lucky stars that made the light brighter during our junior year. Miss Enley and Mr. Sible had many headaches as our sponsors. This year we had two class parties and gave a banquet in honor of the seniors of '49 with the theme based on "The Gold Rush of the '49ers." We also ordered our class rings and gave "A Ready Made Family" as our class play.

Finally in the year of 1950 we are seniors with "Let Us Be Seen By Our Deeds" as our class motto; our class flower a white carnation; and our class colors were green and silver. Our class play was "Girl-Shy" and our delightful sponsors being Mrs. Smith and Mr. Prible. Two of our responsibilities was the publishing of the Black and Gold Flash and our year book the Citadel. With Ned Keener, President; Virginia Chapman, Vice-President; Lois Siples, Secretary; and Ann Arnold, Treasurer, we ordered our caps and gowns, pictures, invitations, and name cards. Commencement was held May 16, and Baccalaureate the preceeding Sunday.

As we leave H. H. S., each going our separate ways and not knowing what our goal in life will be, we hope you will remember us by our motto, "Let Us Be Seen By Our Deeds".

Class Prophecy

The year of 2050 finds the senior class of "50" starting their expedition for the unknown planet of Mars. The rocket was invented by the well known scientist, Charles Overly, who has tried for over 100 years without success, to create a ship that would export every human being from this planet into the world of tomorrow.

The rocket, which is square like an egg, is being shot by our humorous, good looking Dick Bower, who is trying at the moment to drag his little angels who happen to be Eddie Tom, Jr. and Tom Henry, Sr., away from the window before they fall out into the clutches of our little, gruesome Mary Ann Grosjean, the flying monster. She was flying around threw the air with the greatest of ease. The co-pilot, Dorothy Freeman, was paying due respect to her knitting which she was doing for her little, unknown bugs on Mars. As we were exploring the rocket we walked into the pit where we found hanging by their feet none other than Kathie Shew and Jack Flaig, who seemed to enjoy sleeping that way. As we walked on in a little farther we found pretty, little Gladys Gniff and Betty Fox working on the motor. Then we went to the window to look out: here we saw our handsome Ned Keener and Lois Siples, sitting on top, enjoying the sun light from the stars. So we joined them for a little minute. Oh, there's the milky way and there is Mary Patterson, Ray Konger, Charlene McKinley, and Jack Bowser riding around on a ice cream cone! We rode on a little farther then we came to the dipper. Here was Jim Clark and Ray Cummins trying to get a drink of water out of it. We rolled on in and around the stars and stripes until we finally reached Mars. We parked our rocket in the yard of Bill Till's famous mansion known as the Ted Hawk ranch. It was all fenced in by a great, big cloud in which we saw green-eyed Russell Green riding on a pair of scissors. Getting out of our rocket we started our expedition of Mars. Running into Mary Roth's store we saw she was selling our famous Betty Thomas' apple seeds. Exploring a little farther, we saw a sign which read, "This way to Sillie Phil Johnson's baby setting agency." Curious as we were we went down to see it and found two little orphans which were none other than groggy Norma Croxton and lanky Burl Gause. As we hurried on we found a piece of paper which head, "See the moon through Vaughn Marschand's sight seeing Island." So finding it we looked at the moon and saw that Virginia Champan was the woman in the moon. Looking around we saw Ann Kell and Ann Arnold enjoying a moon bath on the beach of Charles Freeman's lake. As the sun was melting in the north, we all jumped aboard our rocket and started back to our fair city of Hometown. On our way we saw Donald Shultz frying red eggs on the Sun. There's the North Star and what do we see, but none other than Rose Ann Peters swinging on it by her teeth. As we glide through the air we see Wilma Genth and Lee Gordon wondering around in the breeze, trying to find Fred Streets and Bill Fritz, who were enjoying a green cheese sandwich. Sitting on a streak of lightning, having a game of cards were Allen Gillum and Owen Gross. Coming on in to our school yard we were greeted by a wonderful stoogie Bob Wise. With a hit and a miss we found ourselves situated in the halls of H. H. S. Which goes to show that anyone can make believe.

Citadel

The staff appointed by Mrs. Palicki for the Citadel this year was as follows: Maryann Grosjean, Editor; Ann Kell, Assistant Editor. Both girls have worked hard to fulfill their responsibilities. The financial affairs were ably handled by Lee Gordon and her assistant Wilma Genth. The Sales Manager was Virginia Chapman who had as her helpers, Norma Croxton, Dorothy Freeman, Phil Johnson, Jack Bowser, and Ted Hawk. The Advertising staff was headed by William Fritz and his assistants were Jim Clark, Burl Gause, and Don Shultz. Faculty and grades were capably handled by Vaughn Marschand, Eddie Tom, Mary Patterson, Ned Keener, Charlene McKinley, Russell Green, Kathy Shew, Owen Gross, Fred Streets, Rose Ann Peters, Bob Wise, Tom Henry, Charles Overly, Bert Freeman, Gladys Guiff, Allen Gillum, and Jack Flaig. The various organizations were taken care of by Ann Arnold, Lois Siples, Betty Thomas, Reginald McMahan, and Ray Cummins. Sports and Art were handled respectively by Bill Till, Betty Fox, Mary Roth, Dick Bower and Raymond Konger.

But of course this yearbook could not have been possible without the advise and assistance of Mrs. Palicki.

Black and Gold Flash

In the Senior class of 1949 and 1950 we find many busy bodies working laboriously to put out the school newspaper. We notice Mary Patterson, Editor-In-Chief hurrying around to get the staff together for a meeting. Vaughn Marschand, associate editor is standing nearby talking to News Editor, Wilma Genth and her assistants, Maryann Grosjean and Charles Overly. Telling them about the meeting we ventured on only to find Feature Editor, Ann Arnold, and her assistant, Norma Croxton, begging a new student for an interview. After watching them for a short time we immediately proceeded to the gym, knowing we would find Sports Editor, Jim Clark, and his assistants Virginia Chapman and Ray Cummins there, arguing about someone's personal fouls. The big task awaited us, we just couldn't find Gossip Editor, Nosy (Mary Sue Roth) and her assistant, Snoopy (Betty Fox). After scanning the building an hour we noticed someone pressing their big ear against a door and sure enough we had found Nosy and Snoopy. Going on our way we were lucky to find Grades Editor, Charlene McKinley, trying to find out some 1st graders birthday, and Art Editor, Lee Gordon, right behind her swiping a picture for an idea. Tom Henry, Business Manager, and his assistant, Eddie Tom, are seen instructing Advertising Manager, Ned Keener, to get his assistants, Jack Flaig and Fred Streets, to get to work as they've been loafing too much. We knew it would be a hard job to find our reporters and typists, Dorothy Freeman, Bert Freeman, Bill Fritz, Burl Gause, Betty Thomas, Ray Konger, Allen Gillum, Owen Gross, Donald Shultz, Bob Wise, Rose Ann Peters. and Lois Siples, so we let Circulation Manager Ann Kell, and her assistant, Red McMahan, do the job for us.

After we had all gathered in 201 for our meeting, we discussed the extra issue we were able to put out this year and of Mrs. Smith's wonderful supervision. Just before we adjourned broke, all of us talked of how much we'll miss the fun we had, and only hope next year's class will have equally as many good times as we have had.

SECOND ROW: D. Lavachek, G. Timmerman, M. Myers, J. Harrod, V. Shank, J. Wetzel, E. Housholder.

The Library

A wide archway connects the juvenile and senior divisions of the library. Fluorescent lighting, linoleum floor covering, walls tinted beige and green, plenty of tables and chairs and shelving with bright colorful books make the library a pleasant and inviting part of our school.

The library contains approximately 5,000 volumes and we receive periodicals monthly. During the first six months of this school year we loaned 17,500 books, 5,948 senior, 11,552 juvenile, and collected $14.40 in fines. Many student assistants help in the work of the library.

Band

At the head of the Band this year we find Mr. Sloffer as the Director, Vaughn Marschand as President, Russell Green as Vice President and Gwendolyn Simon as Secretary.

The Band put on performances at all games except one. These performances included "School Days," with William Gatton portraying the part of the school marm; the "Christmas Program," with the Band forming a five pointed star, with the twirlers at the points of the star; the "Cannon Formation," at the Garrett game in which the cheerleaders were shot out of the cannon, carrying a banner "Beat the Railroaders."

The Band entered the contest at Hartford City on April 1, 1950 and the three numbers played were: "Manitau Heights," a march, "Spirit of Youth," and "Ponce de Leon," both of which are overtures.

Betty Fox, Vaughn Marschand, Russell Green, and Reginald McMahan are completing their Senior year in the Huntertown High School Band.

To Mrs. Palicki, we will our ability to dodge other cars.
To Mr. Prible, we will our ability to collect small items (squirt guns and pocket knives.)
To Mr. Sible, we will our ability for new Army experiences, and our ability to tie Windsor knots.
To Mr. Sloffer, we will our ability to write a 150 words a minute in Shorthand and be able to transcribe it when done.
To Mrs. Smith, we will a nice quiet rest home in which to recuperate from her hectic duties as our sponsor.
To the Juniors, we will our ability to get out of classes and get away with it.
To the Sophomores, we will our ability to have a large group of students on the honor roll.
To the Freshmen, we will our ability to complete Eight Semesters of high school in just four years.
To the eighth grade, we will our ability to graduate.
To the seventh grade, we will our ability to never miss a day of school.
